VELODROOM

a satire about Belgian cycling

Velodroom invites the audience onto two opposing stages. Instantly become a member of the blue or the red team, people lose themselves in an ambition to win!

With a team spirit spontaneously installed, the show presents itself as an interactive cycling race, in an all belgian atmosphere, une ambiance très belge indeed.

The bicycles of both teams each drive forward a video film: on screen you see the race track where Gérard Genard (F) and Silvio Benotto (I) compete with each other. These two cyclists give all they have in them, but an unexpected situation can always occur. Only one team can win: the faster they ride, the sooner they will reach the finish on-screen.

Setting

Tent

capacity : 80 people per performance

4 performances a day

duration : 25 minutes

Open Air

300 to 1000 people per performance

3 performances a day

duration: 35 minutes

The real winner in this crazy competition is always the big laugh. It comes without warning when watching the slapstick video, especially in comparison with the tenacity with which the riders are striving for victory. They are gently encouraged by the two presentors who, in this show, play the devil's advocate.
